2020 GUIDEBOOK

Welcome to the STAR Awards, the education awards for the investment management industry!

To ensure participants benefit most from our ever-evolving awards program, we've outlined some key highlights of the program below.

- The STAR Awards is officially open to all major product structures including ETFs and CEFs — truly an awards program for the entire investment management industry.
- Entries will again be evaluated utilizing OpenWater, a true all-in-one software platform designed to streamline and simplify the entire awards program.
- A new Crisis Communications category has been added in the Investor, Advisor and Retirement areas.

2020 STAR EDUCATION AWARDS

With millions of dollars spent each year to educate, communicate and market to key audiences, the STAR program is honored to recognize investment management firms that have excelled and made lasting impressions in the education, communications and innovations areas. Firms have the opportunity to earn recognition in 30 categories.

The STAR Education Awards program has served as an annual benchmark of best-in-class investor and advisor communications for more than two decades. At the core of this program, the mission is to give leading firms the opportunity to assess their integrated, innovative education efforts in the investment management space.

Before we can celebrate the industry's annual accomplishments, we must first evaluate all of the entries. This document is intended to serve as a guidebook for submitting entries. Similar to last year, the process for submissions will be completed online at thestarawards.com/enter.

If you have questions about this guidebook, please contact us or email starawards@thestarawards.com. We look forward to recognizing the industry's great work in September.

Regards,

Kimber Lintz

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS & RULES

Please carefully review entry rules and requirements. The Judging Committee will disqualify entries that do not meet all guidelines described below.

ELIGIBILITY

The STAR Education Awards competition is open to investment management firms (members and non-members). Materials submitted must have been used in the United States. Materials from previous years can be entered if they have not won a STAR Award previously, or if they have been significantly revised since receiving a STAR. Non-investment management companies can submit entries on behalf of their clients (e.g. agencies, firms that create investor education material). The Judging Committee will disqualify entries that do not meet all guidelines. Judges reserve the right to move entries to more appropriate categories.

TIMING

When submitting award entries, there is not a set time frame for when the communication materials were implemented. All work can be considered, however, the materials must not have won a STAR Award previously unless they have been significantly revised since receiving a STAR (e.g. website).

AUM LEVELS

Submissions will be grouped by the Assets Under Management (AUM) levels below. These levels are for assets managed in the United States.

| AUM Levels (U.S. Only) |                             |
|------------------------|-----------------------------|
| Small                  | Up to $10B                 |
| Medium                 | Over $10B and up to $50B  |
| Large                  | Over $50B and up to $150B |
| Large Plus             | Over $150B                 |

PRICING AND PAYMENT

STAR Education Awards Entry Fees

|            |       |
|------------|-------|
| Member     | $350 |
| Non-Member | $500 |

After entries have been submitted, you will receive an invoice via email. When you view the invoice in your browser, you will have the option to pay online. You also can mail a check or submit an ACH payment.

Using our online portal, participants can easily enter materials at thestarawards.com for a chance to win one of more than 30 awards. All files submitted must include the company name.

The deadline for entries is July 20, 2020.
